Step-by-Step Installation Guide

Step 1: Contents

Upon receipt, the package should include the NUC15 Pro Appliance and two CAT 6 cables: one yellow and one purple. Remove these items from the main box.

Step 2: Unpack the ASUS NUC 15 Box (Continued)

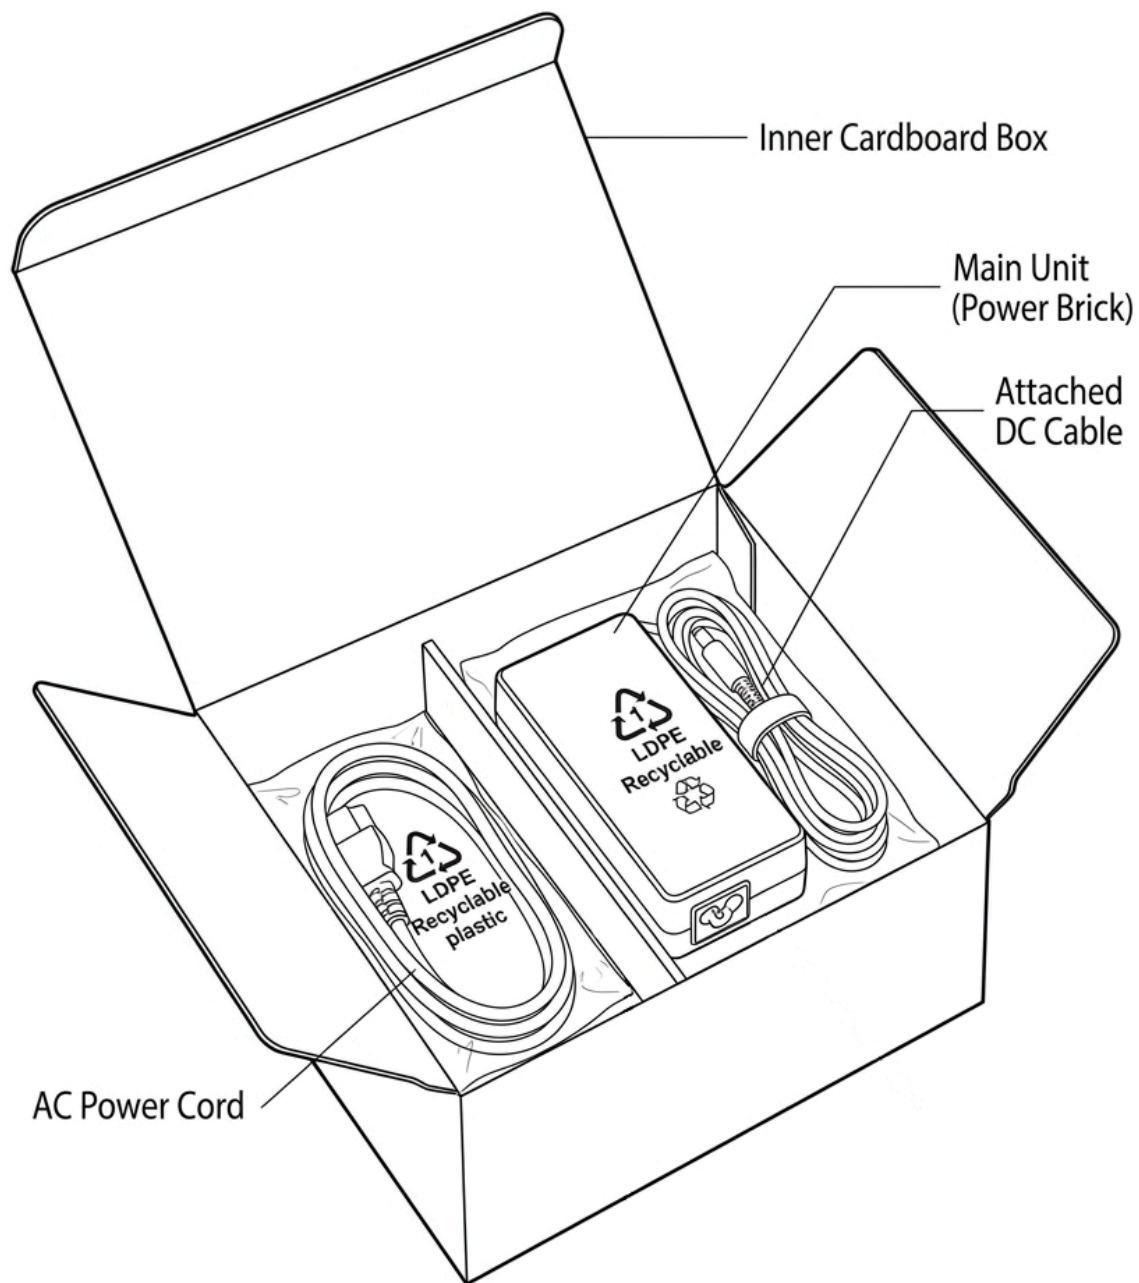

Open the box and carefully remove the appliance from its packaging.

Step 3: Unpack the ASUS NUC 15 Appliance

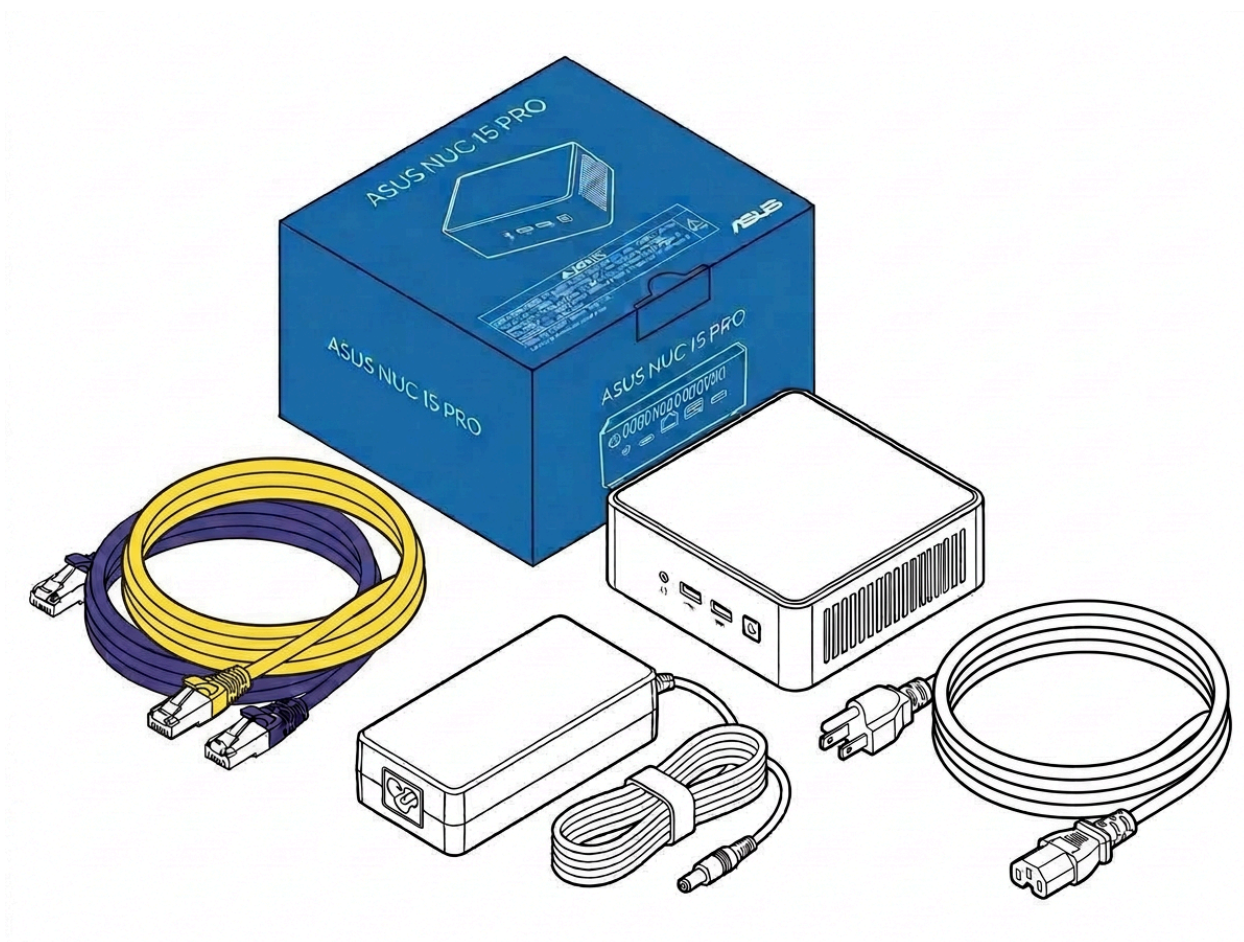

Lift the inner flap to access the power supply, power cord, and optional mounting plate.

Step 4: Unpack the ASUS NUC 15 Appliance (Continued)

At this stage, the package contents should include the appliance, power adapter (power brick), power cord, and two CAT 6 cables. Remove all protective plastic from the appliance, power adapter, and power cord.

Step 6: Connecting the Network Cables

Connect the purple network cable (Internet) to Network Port 1, identified by the purple marking.

Connect the yellow network cable (Cameras) to Network Port 2, identified by the yellow marking.

Step 7: Network Cable Connection Options

Connect the purple cable to your internet switch or router.

- If the cameras reside on the same subnet as the internet network, the yellow cable is not required.
- If the cameras are on a separate network, connect the yellow cable to the camera switch.

NOTE – These network ports are configured for DHCP by default. If your network does not provide IP address assignment, static IP addresses must be configured on the appliance. Please contact support using the information provided in this document for assistance.

Step 8: Connect Power and Initialize the Appliance

Connect the power cord to the power adapter. Insert the DC connector into the DC-IN port, identified by a red marking.

Once connected, plug the unit into a wall outlet or power strip. The power button will illuminate white, and the appliance will power on automatically.

Step 9: Contact CieloVision Support for Onboarding

After completing the installation, contact CieloVision Support to begin the onboarding process.
